

Following on from my recent broadcast advising Hong Kong fuel surcharges, we have now received notification of a similar increase on all Qantas flights ex Shanghai to take effect 17th February 2006. It could be expected these fuel surcharges will increase across all carriers for this period. I will monitor and advise accordingly.

Please find attached a table showing our guide to current levels of fuel surcharges for various airline carriers.

Fuel surcharges are passed on at cost from the airline carriers at time of shipment and whilst we endeavour to advise in advance where possible, surcharges may be subject to change without notification.

If you have any queries on this matter please contact our office directly.
